The Fourth District-A Close Fit.

In another column we publish the vote of the Fourth Congressional district between the Bristow's majority __1,312 Bell's majority, 501 candidates for Governor and for Congress, according to the returns in the office of the Secretary of State. It will be seen that Ander- Adair ---- 1097 son beats Chrisman three votes, and Bell beats Lincoln----Magoffin one vote! This is decidedly a close Russell fit, and will cause a thorough re-examination of Green ---the poll books of all the precincts in the dis- Casey ----trict. The Louisville Democrat says, on the Pulaski 1375 information of a friend in Frankfort, that the Clinton----Clerk of the Boyle Court has discovered a Wayne ____ 831 mistake in the poll books of his county which may change the result in the district. We have had an intimation of this fact before, and if it be true, we trust the Boyle examiners will make the correction before a certificate of election is issued to Mr. Anderson. Indeed, the poll books of the whole district Hardin _____ 732 should undergo a most thorough examination at the very earliest moment. The Next House of Representatives. Although Kentucky and Tennessee hav gone largely Democratic, at the late elections, on their State tickets, the Opposition have gained several members of Congress in each, owing to the Democratic divisions in some of the districts. The "South Americans," as they are called, will have quite a handsome force in the next House of Representatives, and will wield the balance of power in that body. Their strength may be computed thus:

Maryland ..... Georgia.... Louisiana...
Tennessee... Kentucky ..... 5

BRUTAL MURDER .- On Thursday, an Irishman by the name of John Logue killed another Irishman by the name of John Moran. Logue knocked Moran down and then kicked and stamped him to death. [For the Yeoman Hon. L. W. Andrews-His Promised Resignation of his Seat in the Sen-ate.

FLEMING Co., Aug. 6, 1859. EDITOR YEOMAN: In your estimate of the probable state of parties in the Senate of Kentucky, you have overlooked a fact bearing on the question, and from which we anticipate a difference of two in the relative count in favor of the Democracy. The fact alluded to is, that the Hon. Landaff W. Andrews, (better known as Wat Andrews,) the Opposition Senator (elected in 1857 by the Know-Nothings) from the district composed of the counties of Fleming, Nicholas, and Rowan, in a public speech at Mount Carmel, in Fleming county, on Friday next preceding the late election, pledged himself, in a certain contingency, to resign his seat in the Senate. That contingency was the election of H. B. Dobyns, the Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives. The contingency, on the happening of which Mr. Andrews pledged himself to resign, has actually happened; for Mr. Dobyns has actually been elected. A new election, therefore, for Mr. Andrews' successor must be held ere long; for his resignation, if not already executed, will doubtless be duly forwarded to the Governor. Should any delay in transmitting the resignation apparently take place, it is believed it will only be till Gov. Magoffin shall be inaugurated, from the fear that the Know-Nothing Governor, Morehead, might be inclined to ignore the act. But there will be ample time in which to elect a new Senator, after Gov. Magoffin's inauguration, in good season to take his seat. The Democracy are already prepared for the contest, and will lose no time in looking round for a candidate, as their general preference has been already indicated in behalf of Charles M. Fleming, a gentleman of high character, ability, and popularity, who will handsomely beat any Oppositionist venturing in the race. You may entertain no doubt whatever of Andrews' firm determination to resign, and thus create a vacancy to be filled by a Democrat. His pledge was too solemn to be. reconsidered or recalled. He made it openly, voluntarily, and with such evidences of deep, earnest, sincere emotion, evinced by copious tears in the sight of a large assemblage of men and women of both parties, that every one was fully persuaded of the good faith with which he volunteered the pledge. After so signal a manifestation of his purpose, it may be safely assumed, entirely to his credit, too, that he is unwilling to misrepresent his constituents, and that, unsustained by the approbation and confidence of tle people, his seat in the Senate has no longer any attraction for him; but, on the other hand, would prove a torture rather. When Benedict swore he would die a bachelor he did'nt think he would live to get married; and in Roman letter, 14. he would not again take his seat in the Senate, 1857. he did'nt believe Dobyns would be elected; but this is only a witty effort on the part of Andrews admirers to induce him to ignore his pledge, which he cannot but regard as more funny than moral. The effort, however, will not be successful; for whatever may be thought of Wat's politics, Mr. Andrews is an earnest and upright man, who will vindicate his personal truth and honor by the faithful redemption of his volunta y Opp. gain. pledge. Nobody hereabout indulges the slightest doubt of this. So you may confidently anticipate his resignation, prepare for a new election, and revise your political catalogue by adding another Democratic Senator, in place of an ex-Know-Nothing Oppositionist, resigned, which will make a difference of two in the count of the relative CARMELITE. strength of parties.

HARRODSBURG, MERCER Co., Ky., Aug. 1. S. I. M. MAJOR-DEAR SIR: Allow me a small space in your very valuable paper. A woman elected an entire Democratic delegation to occupying a public position as a preacher or teacher of the people, I deem it requisite to give my views before I visit the Capital of this State. that the citizens of Frankfort and vicinity may know that our subjects are "Home Education." not "Woman's Rights."

Early education does not consist merely in the alphabet and reading books. It is the thoughts, Burns, both Dem, gain of 1. the intelligence that is to be educated. It is a mother's voice, in her look of pleasure, and her smile of approbation; in a father's solicitude and the confidence his superior wisdom should inspire. It is the daily view of life at the domestic fireside, and the judicious exercise of parental authority. Its real high object is to give to children recourses that will last as long as life endures. Habits that will ameliorate the condition of life, repress evil passions, and direct aright sentiments and affections; and occupation that will give flow to intelligent faculties, develop tact, sharpen curiosity, and encourage industry and perseverance. All these influences are constantly educating the youthful mind. Methinks I hear the ting the youthful mind. Methinks I hear the Geiger, both Dem., gain of 2.

My Mother's voice! how oft it comes, Like music on my lonely hours;
Like healing sent on wings of love,
Or dew upon the unconscious flowers.
I may forget her melting prayer,
Whilst pleasures pulses madly,
But in the still unbroken air
Her gentle tones come sweetly by,
And years of sin and manhood flee,
And leaves me at my mother's knee.

SALE OF A WHITE WOMAN TO NEGROES IN MASSACHUSETTS.—We clip the following item from the New Bedford Times:

We have reliable authority for stating that a white woman was sold in this city the other day to a negro for the sum of $50. She remained in his service for a day and a night, and then re-turned by underground railroad to her master. He sold her shortly afterward to another negro for the sum of $30, cash down. This selling of white women to negroes is not occasional, but is almost an every day transaction, as we have ascertained after some little inquiry. As that veteran but defunct town-crier, "Tom Williams," used to say, so may with faithfulness be said now—"Git along in; you is just as good as us." There is no such slave degradation in the whole South, as will compare with doings on some of our own streets—reckoning up from the that runs parallel on the East to No. 1.

FATAL ACCIDENT .- A few days ago the wife of Mr. David Courtnay, of this county, was instantly killed by the falling of a tree. It appears that Mr. Courtnay and some of his children were enraged in clearing up a piece of ground, burning brush, &c., when a tree caught fire; about the time it was ready to fall from burning Mrs. Court-nay left the house and proceeded to the clearing. She was not perceived by her husband until she had come under the burning tree-Mr. Courtnay called to her to run, but too late; the tree fell across her, crushing her to death. She leaves an infant and four children motherless.—Augusta (Ky.) Sentinel, 4th.

The Race for the Senate.

We reiterate our expressions made in the Herald heretofore, that this is a state of things deeply to be deplored; but it should be a lesson for the future, which all should ponder upon, and which should teach prudence, forbearance, subor dination to party usages, and the best efforts of

The creamy banks of meadow-sweet
Along the mill stream's margin grow,
Where honey-bees, with pollened feet,
Hunt softly to and fro. The sound is sweet, the fragrance fair,
As summer breezes float along;
Around me, all the summer air
Is rife with scent and song. O, what to me are wealth and rank?
O, what are men, and their deceit,
While I lie here, on the mill-stream's bank.
Among the meadow-sweet? A great victory has been achieved. The Ashand District stands true to the Democratic cause. The gallant and chivalrous Simms proudly wears rels of a hard-won triumph. To him we offer the plaudits of a grateful party. With signal courage and ability, which have extorted the espect even of his adversaries, he has fought nt a campaign, and gained a victory, in the face of unexampled opposition, covering himself with d and enduring fame he has won in this memo-And what shall we say of old Harrison-the panner county of the district-whose noble and eroic stand against the Opposition turned the ide of battle, and won the proudest victory ever chieved by the indomitable Democracy? All he combined forces and appliances of corruption d chicanery were brought to bear upon the delity of the Democracy of Harrison, but, to heir eternal honor be it spoken, they rose in their najesty and might, and administered a rebuke to pposition schemers and wire-workers long to be emembered. They have achieved a national reown. They have won the thanks and applause of the Democracy throughout the Union.

Of all the victories of our party in Kentucky, his is the proudest, the most significant, and im-portant. The district of Henry Clay, John C. Breckinridge, and of John J. Crittenden, the Ashland District, attracts to it elf the attention and interest of the whole Union. Taking its stand proudly and victoriously on the broad and national platform of Democratic principles, it ends forth a voice of encouragement that will enkindle the hopes and fire the zeal of the Naonal Democracy in every part of the Union, while it will dispirit the motly factions combined or the overthrow of the last bulwark of the or stitution and the Union. Let it now be the aim of every Democrat to consolidate, strengthen, and perpetuate the as endency of the Democracy in the Ashland Disict, by the dissemination of correct political inormation and Democratic principles among the We are persuaded that there are multindes of honest but mistaken men in the Opposion ranks, who would abandon the foul coalition with Black Republicans, into which their leaders ave cajoled them, if they saw the true iss olved, and the real position of parties. We exilt not over their defeat, but at the triumph of what we believe to be the cause of the Constitu-tion and the Union. As fellow-citizens, equally nterested with us in resisting the fatal schemes of Northern Abolitionists, and defending the Conitu ion and the Union of these States against heir treasonable assaults, we invite and urge all natriotic members of the Opposition party to join he ranks of the Democracy, and help us to fight he great battle of 1860—to defeat the common and implacable foe of the South and the Union. The Canvass in this County. In our opinion, the large and unprecedented gain for the Democracy in this county, is mainly due to the efficient and energetic canvass made by our popular candidates for the Legislature, assisted by the eloquent orator, R. H. Forrester, Up to within two weeks of the election the Democracy had not stricken a blow. They were lulled into a feeling of security by the proessions of non action made by the Opposition. Knowing that they were in the ascendency, and entertaining no fears of a reverse, they forgot hat "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and were slumbering upon their arms. It was fortunately discovered, however, that our foes ere working as they never had worked before; hat their leading men were riding night and day, nv was sa thoroughly and efficiently organized as hey were in the palmy days of '55; and that, uness we went to work vigorously to counteract heir operations, our majority was in imminent I nger of being largely reduced, if not overcome The cry of danger was heard by the slumberers, nd they sprang from their rest, with their arms n their hands, and as fresh and eager for the fray s though sleep had never bound them with the coils of inactivity. Shawhan, Forrester, and Cleary osted to the scene of action, and everywhere broughout the county raised their voices in deense of the Constitution and the Union. They exhorted Democrats to go to work without delay, and to work unceasingly. Earnestly, eloquent, and tireless, these gallant champions of Demoracy scored over hill and dale, everywhere arousng the party to a sense of the impending dan-Their words of fire lit upon hearts ever nuick to blaze, and an enthusiasm such as we have never before witnessed spread, like a contagion along the Democratic line, and when the lay of battle dawned upon the camp of the Op osition, they swept down upon them swift as the nurricane, sweeping the enemy from their path, nd routing them, horse, foot, and dragoons "They came as the waves come, when navies are stranded:

came as the winds come, when forests are And the effect of their coming is a victory that will never be torgotten.-Cyn. Age. Col. John A. Prall. After the election of our gallant candidate for ngress, we hail no result of the late canvass with more real pleasure and gratification than the clorious victory which Col. John A. Prall has been able to achieve over his competitor in the ace for the Senate. It required no ordinary effort, no small ability, and no slight exertion to overcome the very potent influences brought bear in that contest. We would make no injust reflection upon the integrity of our felow-citizens in Bourbon and Bath, but it is dle to ignore the fact that when Brutus Clay entered the field with a resolution to win the race regardless of cost, he was at once, with his ost unlimited fortune, a most formidable cor petitor. Col. Prall met him in discussion with the most satisfactory result to the Democracy, nor was he deficient in activity and energy. He traversed the District again and again, encouraged and rallied his friends, and boldly met his foes at every point. His success, under the circumstances, 355 gy which will not fail to secure to him yet higher

Why Austria Made Peace. A Berlin (Prussia) correspondent of the St. Louis Republican writes as follows:

It is generally believed that to Napoleon III is due the initiative of the armistice. Such is the almost universal opinion of the English, who affect to believe that he had began to be frightened by the sterm which he had raised. Such is the statement of the Prussian papers, all of which concur in saying, or intimating, hat the hostile attitude of Prussia had alarmed him. Such is the belief of the North Germans generally. I do not believe that Napoleon III has been in the least disturbed by the hostile attitude of Germany. I believe, on the contrary, that a war with Germany has been one of the objects of his Italian war, and consequently I do not believe that any apprehension of a war with Germany bruggists in the State.

Morton, Lexington, Ky., Seaton, Company of the contraction o that any apprehension of a war with Germany has controlled his conduct in the matter of this armistice. I attribute the suspension of war to aranistice. I attribute the suspension of war to an altogether different cause; to the perception by Austria of the fact that Protestant Germany by Austria of the fact that Protestant Germany is its natural enemy; that Prussia (which has rapidly drifted from under Russian influence under that of England, and from despotic ideas to liberal ones,) is its most dangerous rival, and most deadly foe; and that its true policy, as a Catholic despotism, is an alliance, on principle, and of feeling, and of interest with France and Russia. Austria cannot but feel that it has been most shamefully treated in this Italian war by both England and Prussia; and it cannot but see, and feel, too, that the Prince Regent of Prussia has manifested the intensest eagerness to avail himself of Austria's danger and distress to aggrandize Prussia at the expense of the rest of Germany; and therefore, it seems to me to be most probable that Austria has manifested a willingness o treat with the Emperor of the French, upon bases which shall secure their future union and alliance as Catholic despotisms. For, indeed, Austria can more safely rely upon the moderation and the wisdom of Napoleon III than upon an European Congress. The Emperors seem to be re-enacting what was done by France and Russia

That upon the subject of slavery the Democracy of Maryland adhere to the time-honored creed of their party and the principles and policy haid down in their national platform of 1852 and 1856; and that regarding this great question, solved and settled by the adjustment measures of 1850 and the Kansas-Nebraska act, and that as applied, executed, and maintained in good faith under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Dred Scott case, there is no exigency requiring any new issue to the subject.

No. 4. This Machine has a long arm, to accommodate large work. It runs at a high rate of speed, runs easily, and is, without adoubt, the best Machine for Tailors' use, ever offered to the public. It is peculiarly fitted for piantation work, as it is very simple set substantial and durable, with but little liability to get out of order. Price, $120.

No, 5. This is a new and cheaper style, and a general favorite for Family, Light Leather, and a great variety of work. It has been gotten up with reference to furnishing a strong and durable, yet light and tasty Machine, at a less price than either of the above. It runs very easy, rapidly, and is pronounced the best Machine now in market, for $80.

Nó. 6. This is a Machine got up on an entirely new principle, different from anything ever before offered to the public, and we confidently assert that for family use it has not an equal. It is very light and tasty, runs very rapidly, is almost noiseless in its operation and uses a straight needle. It is so arranged as to be utterly impossible for it to miss stitches. It ply of thread on the under spool. The motions are gained by two small cranks that run without perceptible noise. The two threads are worked in such a minner as never to both pull at the same time, and consequently little liable to break. The seam is very elastic, and the thread does not break in washing. It will do coarse work better than any chear machine now in market, as it uses silk, cotton, of linen, with equal facility. Price $50.

OUR REPRINTS versus ECLECTICS, &c. As we have for many years been paying more than $3,000 annually to the British Publishers for the matter furnished in these Periodicals, thus virtually becoming copartners with them in the profits of the Reprints, we trust the public will consider this in bestowing their patronage, and give us the preference over Eelectic and over patchwork publications, whether monthly, or weekly, which now extract so liberally from our works and pay nothing either to the Foreign Publishers or to us for the same. As to cheapness nobody can complain of paying $10 a year for the four leading British Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine, and by taking these works entire subscribers are not obliged to be guided by others in the choice of the articles they may desire to read Moreover, taking into consideration the style in which our Reprints are published and their acknowledged fidelity to the original "Evans & Co.'s Gift Bookstore."
